The Appeal

This amazing, beautiful church is a testimony to the generosity of our parishioners. It's a kind of living sign of the presence of our community. Through your generous support, we are able to accomplish the mission of Christ in our parish every day of the year. Once a year, we're invited to consider how we might allow our generosity to impact the larger church that we belong to. This weekend, I am speaking at all Masses to introduce The Appeal. This annual diocesan campaign invites all of us to participate in and support the mission of Christ and the church in the 23 counties of our Diocese. It's incredibly important as we partake in the mission to share the love of Christ. I ask you to please prayerfully consider your contribution to The Appeal and to pray for its success.

Choir Anthem Lyrics

Offertory – O Love

O Love (O Love, O Love), that will not let me go,
O Love, I rest my weary soul in Thee;
I give thee back the life I owe,
That in Thy ocean depths its flow
May richer, fuller be.

O Joy (O Joy, O Joy), that seeks me through the pain,
O Joy, I cannot close my heart to Thee;
I trace the rainbow through the rain,
And feel the promise is not vain;
That morn shall tearless be.

O Love (O Love, O Love), that will not let me go, . . .

Post-Communion – Ave Maria

Ave Maria, gratia plena, Dominus tecum, benedicta tu in mulieribus, et benedictus fructus ventris Tui, Jesus.
Sancta Maria, Mater Dei, ora pro nobis peccatoribus, nunc et in hora mortis nostrae. Amen.

Hail Mary, full of grace, the Lord is with you, blessed are you among women, and blessed is the fruit of your womb, Jesus. Holy Mary, Mother of God, pray for us sinners, now and at the hour of our death. Amen.

THE CATECHETICAL CORNER

Dad?

I have a confession to make. This confession concerns a controversial topic that some people might tar and feather me over. I did not see a single Star Wars film until I was 25 years old. The idea of science fiction never interested me, so I never watched them. Upon dating my now-wife, she was horrified that I had never seen a single film. So, one day, we sat down and watched them. I will not tell you in what order I watched them because I hear that is another controversial topic. Well, I must say, you could have knocked me over with a feather when Darth Vader dropped the bomb that he was Luke's father. The name "father" is such an intimate word. It connotes a deep sense of connection, safety, and love, all of which Vader lacked. We call our earthly parents "mother" and "father." We call God "Our Father." So, if we have the word "father" in our lexicon, and we have people to attribute this name to, why does Jesus tell us to call no man "father?"

If Jesus's purpose were to banish the use of the word "father" in reference to human males, then it would seem the other New Testament authors never got the memo. In the New Testament alone, there are 195 uses of the word "father(s)" to refer to earthly human males. Therefore, it seems clear that understanding our Lord's word as an absolute banishment of the term for anyone but God is not supported by the practice evident in Scripture itself. St. Paul even referred to himself as a father: "...you have many guides but not many fathers, for I became your father in Christ Jesus through the Gospel (1 Cor 4:15). For you know how like a father with his children we exhorted and charged each one of you to lead a life worthy of God (1 Thess 2:10). Timothy...as a son with a father has served me in the gospel (Phil 2:22).

When Jesus said "call no man your father on earth, for you have one Father, who is in heaven," he used an expression that has deep roots in the Old Testament. To "call" someone by a "name" in the Hebrew tradition meant something closer to "identifying the essence," "the being" of a person.

For example, when the prophet Isaiah says of the Messiah that "his name will be called Wonderful Counselor, the Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace," he certainly does not mean that those titles will be commonly used as names of the Messiah. None of Jesus' contemporaries, not even his Apostles, called him those things. Instead, the "name" here means the essence, and Isaiah is describing the nature of the Messiah, who will be, in his very nature, the "Mighty God" who shares the essence of the "Wonderful Counselor" (the Holy Spirit) and the "Everlasting Father" (God the Father). All other fathers, even one's biological father, are imitation fathers because God is the true Father who begets children in a way that only he, as God, can. When you were conceived, God created your soul ex nihilo, "from nothing."

When we address our priests as "father," we acknowledge their role as spiritual guides and shepherds entrusted with the care of our souls. Just as a loving father provides for the needs of his children and offers them guidance and support, so too do our priests nurture us in our faith journey, offering us the sacraments, teaching us God's Word, and leading us closer to Christ. For example, when a priest baptizes a baby, he brings about a new spiritual life. He is "birthing" a soul through the Word and the Spirit, moving it from death into life. This is more like how God creates a soul than biological procreation. True fatherhood is spiritual. In calling our priests "father," we recognize the paternal love and compassion they extend to us, mirroring the love of our Heavenly Father. Their ministry brings us God's grace and mercy, helping us experience his forgiveness and healing.

But beyond the individual priest, the title "father" also speaks to the communal aspect of our faith. As members of the Church, we are part of a spiritual family, with our priests serving as spiritual fathers to the entire community. They unite us in prayer, inspire us with their preaching, and bind us in the bond of Christ's love. Also, when we address our priests as "father," we affirm our trust in their authority and wisdom as ordained ministers of the Gospel. We recognize their sacred calling to lead and guide us by the teachings of the Church, helping us navigate life's challenges and grow in holiness.

Let us never take for granted the gift of the word "father." Whether referring to our Heavenly Father, biological father, priests, or Darth Vader, we must understand the role of "father" in our lives. We need to pray to and pray for our fathers. Through our prayers, we will one day see the Father who gave us our being.

CONNECTING THE WORD OF GOD TO OUR LIVES

Reflecting on the Gospel for the Sixth Sunday of Easter, May 5, 2024

First Reading: Acts 10:25-26, 34-35, 44-48; Second Reading: 1 John 4:7-10; Gospel: John 15:9-17

In today's Gospel reading, Jesus says, "You are my friends if you do what I command you." Is that the measure of true friendship? That we do what our friend commands us to do? That depends upon which friend we are speaking about.

There are many images we use for God. We call Him Father, Savior, Master, Lord, King, Redeemer, Spirit and Friend. When it comes to God as our divine Friend, it is important to understand the nature of that friendship properly. Jesus' friendship is not one that simply makes us "buddies." Friendship with our Lord is not the same as a friendship between two equals. He is God. And because He is God, our friendship with Him takes on unique characteristics that are not present in other friendships. With that said, there could be no greater friend than the Lord Himself.

Among humans, our friendships have various foundations. It could be that two people have mutual interests and they enjoy engaging in those interests together. It could be that two people have spent much pleasant time together since childhood. Or it could be that two people have endured some difficulty together and that experience has bonded them together. But according to Saint Thomas Aquinas, friendship in its purest form is based on just one thing: mutual charity.

Charity is the form of love that is purely selfless. It's a way of relating to another in which a person's sole focus is the good of the other. It is not based on one's own self interests. It's not a matter of "what do I get out of it?" In 1 Corinthians 13:4-8, St. Paul defines the love of charity this way: "Love is patient, love is kind. It is not jealous, it is not pompous, it is not inflated, it is not rude, it does not seek its own interests, it is not quick-tempered, it does not brood over injury, it does not rejoice over wrongdoing but rejoices with the truth. It bears all things, believes all things, hopes all things, endures all things. Love never fails." This is not only the definition of charity, it is also the only foundation for true friendship.

When you consider all of these qualities of charity, you will find that God relates to us in each of these ways. For that reason, God offers us the purest friendship possible. Whether or not we reciprocate these qualities to God will determine the depth of the bond of friendship that we establish with Him. But there is more. When we love God, we must love Him in a way that is proper and proportionate to Who God is. For example, if we offer charity to God, we seek to fulfill only God's interests and rejoice in the Truth of Who He is. Thus, the charity we offer to God comes in the form of worship. He is God and is worthy of worship, adoration, surrender, trust and perfect obedience. When it is God we are loving, the very essence of the Person we love requires these responses.

One beautiful and consoling thing to recognize with this form of charity given to God is that it also establishes a true friendship with God. When we offer our worship to God, we are in a position to receive the very life of God in return. And the giving of ourselves, coupled with the reception of the life of God, establishes a bond of holy friendship that will transform us, unite us with Him and fulfill us to perfection. Friendship with God makes us one with Him and opens us to receive everything that He shares with us—namely, His very Self.

Reflect, today, upon the invitation Jesus has offered you to enter into a true friendship with Him. This means that God becomes the center of your life. It means that you seek to give yourself, selflessly and without reserve, to Him Who is deserving of all your love. It means you choose worship and obedience to perfection. The reward of such love is that you are able to enter into a bond that is so holy, so pure and so fulfilling that it completes you, enabling you to become who you were meant to be.

My God and true Friend, You offer me everything in life. You offer me Your perfect love, given fully and without reserve. I pray that I will reciprocate that depth of love and offer to You all that You deserve. I offer You my love, worship and obedience, dear Lord. May this mutual love form a bond that will never end. Jesus, I trust in You.
